THE ROYAL INSTITUTION OF NAVAL ARCHITECTS

By becoming an Academic Partner, your organisation will join a distinguished network of pioneers in industry, academia, and government. This partnership offers a range of tailored benefits designed to support your organisation's strategic objectives and deliver added value to your business. Some of the key advantages of joining RINA as an Academic Partner include:

Global Professional Recognition: Benefit from the international recognition for excellence which collaborating with the Institution provides. Proudly display a certificate celebrating your partnership and gain the right to brandish the Academic Partner Crest on your University website and literature.

Academic Staff Support: Complimentary membership for the main point of contact liaising on behalf of the Academic Partner and first-year complimentary membership for academic staff joining as new members.

Exclusive Discounted Accreditation Fees: Academic Partners benefit from a special discount on standard university accreditation fees.

Student Members: Complimentary membership for all undergraduate students and the opportunity to engage with our student ambassador program.

Collaborative Partnership: Collaborate with RINA to co-host events and webinars showcasing the latest research and industry advancements. Through joint STEM activities, provide valuable opportunities for your students to connect with professionals and gain industry exposure before graduation.

Exhibition and Sponsorship Discounts: Receive discounts on exhibition stands and sponsorship opportunities for RINA-hosted events, including a 50% discount on the cost of hosting an exhibition stand at the Institution's annual 'The Naval Architect' Membership Event.

Networking & Community: Engage with professionals from one of the world's largest and most respected maritime networks through live events, local Branches and online communities.

Promotion Opportunities: Benefit from a complimentary welcome mention in our e-newsletter, a spotlight new-partner feature in our flagship publication, The Naval Architect, and additional promotional opportunities at events and across our various platforms.
